God, the Lord a King	re-	maineth,	robed in	His	own	glorious	light;
In her everlast-	ing	station	earth is	poised,	to	swerve no	more:
Lord, the water-floods	have	lifted,	ocean	floods	have	lift their	roar,
With all tones of wa-	ters	blending,	glorious	is	the	breaking	deep;
Lord, they words Thy lips	are	telling	are the	per-	fect	veri-	ty:

F#m Ε B7 E reign-eth; He hath girded Him with might. God hath robed Him and He Thou hast laid Thy throne's foun-dation from all time where thought can soar. Now they pause where they have drifted, now they burst upthe shore. on Glorious, beauteous without ending, God who reigns on heav'ns high steep. dwelling, holiness shall Of Thine high eternal inmate be.
